WORKING AT HUNGERHILL SCHOOL

5.

Hungerhill is a well-established, very popular and heavily over-subscribed co-educational 11-16 comprehensive school with extensive facilities. There are approximately 1,200 students on roll and the school serves a geographically defined catchment area, receiving students from five feeder schools. The school is full and has been over-subscribed for a number of years. There are 80 teaching staff and 88 non-teaching staff, providing excellent administrative, pastoral, technical and caretaking support.

The school emphasises the equal worth and dignity of all students. It stresses the importance of individual responsibility and respect. It encourages self-discipline, wide interests and service to the community. It values sharing, honesty and fairness. From this premise the school sets out to develop independent, caring, enquiring, morally responsible, adaptable and well-qualified young people prepared for life and work beyond school.

Hungerhill is a school with high standards of attendance, punctuality and school dress; with a strong emphasis on the quality of the learning environment; with a rich programme of extra-curricular activities open to all students; with high expectations in terms of the quality of relationships; with a clear focus on teaching and learning and everyone doing their best; and with a behaviour policy based on clear sanctions, fairly and consistently applied and a reward system designed to recognise many forms of success. As a team, we never compromise on the standards and expectations we have for all our students. Through hard work, determination and resilience, our students experience success in many forms whether that be in academic, sporting or creative fields.

Hungerhill prides itself on being an inclusive school, where we strive to inspire confident learners who will thrive and grow into the very best version of themselves. Visitors are always impressed by our family atmosphere, the warmth of relationships between staff and students and value for the individual.

As a former Teaching School, Hungerhill has been at the forefront of making evidence-informed practice the norm within classrooms. As a Teaching School, we led on a number of important teaching and learning initiatives which are founded on well-researched evidence-based practice.

We have strong links with a number of local universities which supported us with various projects. We ceased to hold the Teaching School designation in August 2021, when Teaching Schools were replaced with Teaching School Hubs. Our staff continue to work across the Trust as System Leaders as well as with other high performing national and local Trusts.

We have a strong partnership with Notre Dame School in Sheffield and Ambition Institute supporting the delivery of the Early Careers Framework and the NPQs. As a school we firmly believe in the importance of CPD for both teaching and associate staff, as a vehicle to increase motivation, competence and confidence and ensure career growth.

THE HUMANITIES DEPARTMENT

Geography at Hungerhill is designed to stimulate students curiosity and a wonder of the world around them and give students the confidence to interact with the wider world, leading to fulfilled and positive life experiences. Geography encourages students to ask questions, develop critical thinking skills, and progressively layers a deeper understanding of complex concepts as the course unfolds. Geography is also designed to give all students the confidence and experience to help inform and shape ideas; investigating both human and physical dimensions of a diverse range of stimuli.

Geography is comprised of 6 teachers within the department who are overseen by the Trust Director of Geography. Classrooms have interactive displays to support in the delivery of teaching and there is a large bank of resources to support teaching and learning within the department.

Students follow a mastery-based curriculum starting in year 7 and builds into the GCSE curriculum. Students study the AQA GCSE Geography course which offers a range of new topics and skills that build upon prior knowledge, recycle their learning as they progress along the course and challenge students in terms of skills, complexity, and application. Our students strive for excellence, achieve the best they can and leave Hungerhill School able to become informed global citizens and role models for the future and set a trail for others to emulate.

The department aims to instil a love of geography in students providing them access to a broad development programme consisting of enrichment activities such as trips to the East coast for physical geography and urban studies that incorporate Sheffield and Hull. There are also enrichment opportunities through a lunch time Eco-club. The department is developing its collaborative work with the Doncaster UTC further strengthening teaching and learning and the support of students in their post 16 study.
